

World Learning Small Business Open House

Fall 2016

December 13, 2016: 1:00 – 4:00 p.m. EST

1015 15th Street, NW, 7th Floor

Washington, D.C.

World Learning also seeks Training Providers which are consultants and groups of consultants with experience developing and delivering quality 1 to 3 week training programs around specific thematic areas. Training providers offer a one-stop-shop to coordinate with experts, organize site visits to relevant facilities, design orientation and closing sessions, monitor participants and training budgets, organize logistics including accommodations and ground transportation, and secure professional interpreters.

Please RSVP with Jennifer Plante at jennifer.plante@worldlearning.org by December 6, 2016. Please use the subject line “Small Business Open House,” indicate areas in which your business has capacity, and attach a capacity statement to your email. Light refreshments will be provided.

World Learning invites small businesses interested in subcontracting opportunities with World Learning in support of US government funded programs to attend its second annual Small Business Open House. This will be an opportunity to speak with World Learning program managers about short term needs, and with World Learning’s program development team about longer term subcontracting opportunities. World Learning is most interested in speaking with small businesses with experience in the following areas:

Agriculture

Energy and Environment

Leadership and Communications

Translation

Logistics

In addition, we invite small businesses to explore our website – www.worldlearning.org – to gain an understanding of the range of work we do.
