Connect with critical care specialists in Morocco as part of the Society of Critical Care Medicine (SCCM) delegation. Led by Dr. Heatherlee Bailey, SCCM President, the program will give you a unique opportunity to learn about the state of critical care medicine in this developing country in north Africa.

The Kingdom of Morocco, led by King Mohammad VI, is committed to building a strong healthcare infrastructure, both public and private. Since 2015, Morocco has been in the process of building over 30 hospitals, including five University hospitals. This delegation will have the opportunity to learn how this advancement will transform the challenges faced today by Morocco's growing healthcare system.

LEADER BIOGRAPHY

Heatherlee Bailey, MD, FCCM, is the 48th president of the Society of Critical Care Medicine (SCCM). She has been actively involved in SCCM for more than 20 years, serving in a wide variety of roles, and was the SCCM Pennsylvania Chapter president in 2003-2005. She was awarded the Dr. Joseph and Rae Brown Award for her chapter-level contributions in 2008; a fellowship in the American College of Critical Care Medicine followed shortly thereafter. She also serves as an oral board examiner for the American Board of Emergency Medicine.

Originally from Pennington, New Jersey, Dr. Bailey attended Alfred University and completed medical school at the Rutgers University of Medicine and Dentistry in Newark, New Jersey. She completed her residency at the Medical College of Pennsylvania and then joined the faculty. After a faculty fellowship in critical care, she served as her department's director of critical care education as well as its associate residency program director. Twelve years later, Dr. Bailey's career brought her to Duke University and the Durham VA Medical Center in Durham, North Carolina.

Her dedication and expertise have been nationally acknowledged—the American Medical Association recognized Dr. Bailey with the Women's Mentoring Award in 2008. Volunteering remains an important part of Dr. Bailey's career, which includes a host of administrative roles. Her volunteerism is not limited to the United States; her interests in the management of injury and critical illness span the globe. She was one of the creators of the Comprehensive Trauma Life Course for India, a course she delivered as part of her work for the International Trauma Anesthesia and Critical Care Society.
